ANNOUNCEMENT

It is with pleasure that I announce the enlargement of our nursery business, started by me in 1878. Commencing September 5th, the company will operate under the name of "LEONARD COATES NURSERIES" with headquarters at 1835 The Alameda (post office address, Box 268), San Jose, California. We will grow and sell, wholesale and retail, a complete line of fruit and ornamental stock as well as many novelties. In addition we will soon open a floral and seed store. Our mail order department will be especially equipped to handle plant and seed orders.

Two new active members have joined forces with us and with my son, Ronald H. Coates, Will Marken and Gladys Tremoureaux, will assist in rendering a complete nursery service to our many friends.

Mr. R. D. Hartman needs no introduction to the Horticultural officials and Nurserymen of the State, but to the public I wish to say that he has spent 18 years in this work. Beginning with wholesale collecting of native plants, he was later department head in a large nursery; superintendent of a private estate; assistant entomologist with the United States Department of Agriculture, and now resigns from a responsible position as head of the Nursery Service, State Department of Agriculture, to become actively associated with our company. It is most gratifying to announce Mr. Hartman's connection with the LEONARD COATES NURSERIES.

Mr. L. H. Durden, a successful young business man of San Francisco, has also joined with us and brings with him a thorough understanding of business management as well as a general knowledge of the nursery business. I have known him all his life and his father for nearly 50 years and am well pleased that we have interested him in the business.

I wish to take this opportunity to thank our patrons for their many past favors and hope that our pleasant relations may continue.

Leonard Coates
